When was the last time your band box was sterilized? Can you say: "after every patient our Band Box is completely wrapped or pouched for sterilization."

Never again spend the time, or money it takes to sit and sort bands individually. Work directly out of the band box at chairside.

Now your band boxes are always sterile, and perfectly organized! Just imagine opening up your band box, and having everything in it's place, with little to no effort involved!

SteriSource Band Box

SteriSource includes the patented design on every band box, plus each is equipped with dual locking latches.

SteriSource hears countless offices rave about these band boxes. For good reason, the patented and patent pending innovations in our exclusive band boxes have offices demanding them world wide.

Who wouldn't want to eliminate sorting and resorting bands? The hours spent on that very task alone wastes countless dollars in payroll. Frustration when the bands are not sorted properly, or you find bent up and non-sterile bands mixed in with the inventory.

With SteriSource Band Boxes you can throw out any worry of cross contamination, your bands are always where they should be, sterile and ready to go!

Patients and parents feel confident knowing that you are using sterile bands when they see you unwrap and open the band box right at chairside. Knowing that your office is using the highest level of sterilization care possible for your patients leaves parents feeling confident!

Each box is LASER ENGRAVED to your office's personalized specifications.

Hospital and Surgery Cases are not a problem with these band boxes! Small in size and easy to transport, completely sterilizable in dry heat, chemiclaves and autoclaves.

Now You Know!

How often must I run a Spore Test?

Both CDC (Centers for Disease Control) and the ADA (American Dental Association) recommend weekly monitoring of all sterilizers, and every load containing implantable devices. Most states have laws in place regarding biological monitoring of sterilizers.

What is Biological Monitoring?

A biological monitor/indicator (BIs) is a calibrated population of non-pathogenic bacterial spores, in or on a carrier (such as paper strips) which are known to be resistant to the mode of sterilization being monitored.

"To anyone who needs or wants the most simple, yet efficient sterilization system on the planet, listen up:

As a new orthodontist, I am bombarded with companies trying to sell me stuff. Generally, it feels like harassment. You are forced to buy something just to get them to go away. But rare is the company who is as determined to educate you, get you the right equipment, have it set up in an efficient manner, train you, then be there for you during your growing pains. SteriSource is such a company. Great people, great products, great support. My staff, having worked in other offices and other sterilization systems, are absolutely thrilled with the efficiency and simplicity of the cassette system and systematized workflow. There is virtually no stress in sterilization, keeping track of instruments and ensuring quality.

Everyone should use these guys."
